FABRICS YARN CLASSES NOTIONS STENCILS BOOKS PATTERNS

November 2, 2015 Update

Last week at quilt market was so much fun. There was so much to see and learn that I kind of went into overload. I brought back a lot of new patterns and ideas. Even Tropical storm Patricia couldn't dampen my enthusiasm. My plane ride home was not so fun, but American Airlines eventually got me where I was supposed to be so all was good! Since I got back several new fabric lines have showed up but there wasn't room in this newsletter to list them all so you will have to stop in and check them out.

6 Inch Sampler Block Shuffle Challenge Blocks have been posted

Join us for the Sampler Block Shuffle Challenge. Every Monday through mid January we will post patterns for 6" blocks on our website- 30 blocks in all. The blocks can be made using 2 jelly rolls or 2 layer cakes or one of each. A setting option will be available or design your own. Make them in any fabrics you like and bring in your finished quilt to us March 7-10. We will put them on display Saturday March 12-19 for voting by all our customers. 1st place gets a $30 gift certificate, second place $20 gift certificate, and 3rd place receives a $10 certificate.

We would really love it if you post pictures of your blocks as you work on them to our Facebook page. We can't wait to see what you come up with. Our first blocks have now been posted on our web page-

Sandi has been working hard on this new quilt using the vintage travel fabric from Northcott. This easy pattern sews up quickly.

We have some cute new bags that just came in that work great for storing or carrying all your gadgets to classes. Right now we have 2 different sizes with a 3rd one on the way.

I visited with a vendor at market about quilts made with three 1 yard cuts of fabric. I loved all the patterns she had so I brought several home and we have cut kits. All you have to do is pick your favorite bundle and grab any of the patterns to create a quick to sew quilt.

Also one last thing...each day we will feature a different Bolt of the Day. It will be on display on the cutting table at a super deep discount price. When its gone...its gone! Check it out
