FABRICS YARN CLASSES NOTIONS STENCILS BOOKS PATTERNS

April 6, 2015 Update

Well, I was all excited last week when the new Karbonz knitting needles showed up. I tried a pair this weekend and I am hooked. They have a really wonderful feel and are super pointy on the end. I have double points and circulars. I also have double point sets and a couple of the interchangeable sets in circulars. We are just starting to build our inventory so if you don't see the size you want I will order them for you.

Here is that crazy Chillingsworth skeleton fabric I told you about last week. Isn't it cute in a sort of quirky weird way?

We just received some brand new pieces from Jo Morton. I love the rich reds and blues.

Terry and Terri just put this display together to showcase some of the prettiest spring fabrics all ready for you to take home.

Don't forget to pick up your latest issue of Mary Janes farm.

Terri made these great table toppers from the Little Charmers IV pattern from Anka's Treasures. She makes one of these for every season for her dining room table. What a great idea!
