May 2, 2016 Update

Spring is such a pleasant dilemma for me- sew or plant. My patio is covered with plants that I have either over-wintered or bought this spring. I'm a sucker for all the gorgeous blooms in the garden centers. They just see me coming and hop into my cart without me even seeing them. I get home and I'm so surprised at all the new treasures I have. My goal this week is to get all these little beauties off the patio and into the ground. Unfortunately I probably won't get a lot of sewing done, but all these new things we have gotten in are sure a great inspiration to stay in and knit or sew. Maybe we will have another rainy day.

This new panel from Red Rooster Fabrics would make some really cute spring projects. For a free pattern to make a quilt, table runner, and placemats using Adalees Garden check out redroosterfabrics.com.

A fun, quick and easy project to add to your July decorations would be this flag wall-hanging printed by Cut Loose Press. Kits and patterns are available.

The Crafty Bag is a great bag to hold your sewing and crafting supplies. It has 3 outside pockets and 4 on the inside. Sharon made our with My Li'l Lady fabric from Exclusively Quilters.

Do you want to make a selvage quilt but the thought of all those little itty bitty strips of fabric drive you a bit crazy? How about trying a pattern using Moda's pre-printed selvage fabric. Brilliant idea Moda!

Oh I got so excited when Coral Queen of the Sea arrived from Moda. Not only is the fabric fun and pretty, but the little doll made from the pre printed fabric is absolutely adorable. Her little mermaid tail is removable. I don't know any little girl that wouldn't find her irresistible.

May 2, 2016 Update

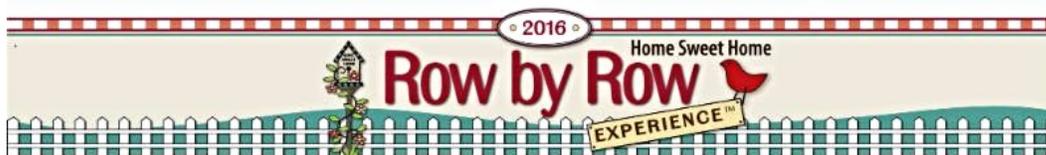

This gorgeous knitted Garden Gate Tee has been getting a lot of attention. There will be a class starting on July 2nd. Make sure you get signed up.

Several new knitting classes are starting this week including beginning sock and Fairisle workshop. Other projects this month are garter stitch slippers, pom pom socketlet and double knitting. Check out a complete list of all our classes on our website picketfencequiltcompany.com. Also don't forget about the retreat scheduled for July 21-23.

Dig into your scrap basket or tub and have fun stitching up this Tessie quilt. This one was in my UFO pile for a while and decided that it really wanted to be finished. How fun is that???

These new 2 1/2" strip pack of spring pastels just arrived from Willmington Prints. It just makes me want to open one up and start sewing.

2016 Row by Row will be starting on June 21st. As you travel the country this summer collect kits from different quilt shops to create your own one of a kind commemorative quilt. Here is a teaser of our row this year.

My 2016 fabric license tags arrived this week. Collect them in your travels this summer. Thanks to Barb Snell for this year's inspiration.

Don't forget that we have the 2nd and 4th Thursday afternoons from 1-4 reserved for anybody that just wants to pop in and stitch on hand projects. Stop in and see us.
Happy stitching ~Lisa
